WHEELS are the life of a wagon. Hubs, spokes, felloes and tires of the best materials, put together by skilled workmen, go into every Studebaker.

What is the result? Mr. William H. Horton, of Nineveh, N. Y. writes that the tires on his thirty-six year old Studebaker farm wagon did not need resetting in thirty years -and the wagon was in use every day.

We can prove to you that this is not an exceptional Studebaker wagon. There are thousands of Studebaker wagons in use today that are forty years old and more. And that have cost their owners little or nothing for

HEALTH MEETING

Held at the Mason County Woman's Headquarters Addressed by Dr. H. S. Mustard and Dr. J. G. Townsend of the Sanitary Survey Corps.

The health meeting advertised to be ield in the Mason County Woman's Club building on Sutton street yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock drew a fair sized crowd of ladies and gentlemen interested in health work.

H. S. Mustard of the United States huge that officials are buried beneath Public Health Service, now in the city a sandslide of untabulated returns. No talk was very instructive and interest- swer. Apparently it was overwhelming and he showed that he had a very ing beyond thorough knowledge of the work of of treasury officials, though not one sanitation.

Dr. Mustard said that there were three things most necessary to every baby born into the world, a good inheritance, pure food and pure fresh air. Each one of the three he treated separately laying the most stress on the first two named. He gave facts concerning babies that was astounding to hear. Following his speech he answered various questions concerning the health and care of the child. Among the questions asked him was conernine the health and care of the child. Among the questions asked him was concerning "three day measles," which many children were said to have had recently. He said that he had never heard of the disease and in his opinion it was probably German meas-

Dr. J. G. Townsend then spoke for a short time on health work.

THE PEACE OF VICTORY FOR WHICH WE STRIVE

The United States does not wish from Germany, Austria or Turkey a foot of land or a dollar of indemnity. We are in this war partly because it had become impossible for a high-minded Nation longer to submit to the intolerable outrages and injuries which for two years we had suffered from Germany; and partly because it was -as it long had been-our clear duty to take active part in the war for democracy against autocracy, for right against wrong, for liberty against militaristic tyranny, for the cause of the free people against the despotic and oligarchic governments which deny freedom to the

We must continue steadfastly in the war until we gain peace by victory; for no other peace justifies war. The peace thus gained think, the English language, seeing it must be the peace of justice and of righteousness; for an unjust aand unrighteousness peace is far worse than a just war.

The principle underlying the peace should be the right of each people to govern itself and to control its own destinies so far as such control does not conflict with the rights of others.

I have said that we wished nothing for ourselves in either territory or indemnity. But we ought to insist on formal recognition. of the Monroe Doctrine; for this would not only be to our advantage and to the advantage of all well-behaved American nations, but would mark a long stride forward in international peace and fair dealing. In its essence the Monroe Doctrine is a declaration that hereafter there is to be no territorial aggrandizement by European Powers on American soil at the expense of American nations. South of the equator there are growing civilized States capable of enforcing this doctrine themselves, and there we should join in enforcing it only at their request. But north of the equator our interests are such that we must be the guarantor. This should be specificially acknowledged in the treaty of peace.—Theodore Roosevelt in the July Metropolitan.

FIRE TRAPS

Maysville along with every other town or city in the country had an excellent lesson the week in the destructive fires which visited Atlanta, Georgia and Lexington, Ky. In Maysville there exists, just as there existed in Atlanta and Lexington, a nnumber of dilapidated, Major General John J. Pershing, the fast-decaying hovels, that are fire hazards of the most dangerous American commander, in France type. The only thing that permits them to stand is the fact thaat somebody is still getting a few dollars a month out of them in rentals.

Any one of these hovels is apt to be the means of a conflagration that would not mean serious loss by fire alone, but the possible loss of life. There are buildings in Maysville not worth the lumber contained in them, standing as an hourly menace to other structures well worth into the thousands of dollars. Ordinarily they are occupied by the very poor, and most generally lamps are used and fire carelessly handled. The owner manages in some way to escape the fire inspectors, and in many instances he is of sufficient prominence in the community to cause neighboring property owners, those who really have something at stake, to withhold their complaints about his fire traps.

This should not be. No man who invests his money in property in Maysville should be forced to have it endangered by a shack that is not worth carrying insurance on. Atlanta and Lexington are mourning a loss today of millions of dollars worth of property merely because they permitted a number of dilapidated old frame buildings, almost untentable, but still drawing a few dollars a year in rentals, to remain in their business districts. There must be somewhere in the city ordinances, or within the State fire laws, something to afford relief aand do away with this danger.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC IS CONDEMNED AT MEETING

Lexington, June 14 - Warning against political prohibitionists of too recent conversion to tenets of temperance was given in resolutions adopted yesterday morning by the district conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The members of the church present at the meeting were urged to further in every way possible the fight against the liquor traffic, and to vote only for representatives who will give the people of the State an opportunity to decide for hemselves whether they desire a continuance of the sale of alcohol. The afternoon was given over to a discussion by the lay members of the conference, with W. W. Ball, of Maysville, as leader. Mr. Ball made an exhaustive report on the finances of the church. Others who spoke were W. H. Cobb, of Spears; J. B. Bryant, of Nicholasville, and Robert Friend, of Irvine.

Morning services were in charge of the Rev. E. L. Southgate, a former Lexingtonian, now pastor of the Mt. Sterling church. Miss Anna Lewis, of Lexington, reported on woman's work, and the Rev. W. B. Campbell, of Maysville, reported on mission work.

Don't do American Association, Thomas J. that, it is bad luck, and if we should ask them why we would only be told that it was because some one had told them so. Thus it happens that these old superstitions have been handed down from one generation to another. But the present generation has arrived at a stage where we realize the reality of things. The belief in superstition of signs dates back further than the time of Julius Caesar. We can however overlook that fact that people believed in superstition at that time because civilization had not reached a very great height, but to hear some one tell us now, not to do certain things because it is bad luck sounds not only absurd and childish but also denotes ignor-

Some of the bad luck signs are, for a black cat or rabbit to cross your path; to break a looking glass means seven years of bad luck; to find a soft shell egg means bad luck.

Some of the good luck signs are, to carry a rabbit's foot in your pocket, to find a four leaf clover; a spider on your neck means good luck.
